Read an Excerpt

The air hung heavy with anticipation as Sarah Jane stepped into the grand foyer of Belle Isle. Cobwebs clung to the ornate moldings, and the only sound was the creaking of the old wooden floorboards beneath her feet.

Sarah Jane couldn't shake the feeling that she was being watched. She scanned the room, her heart pounding in her chest. Suddenly, her gaze fell upon a portrait hanging on the wall. It was a portrait of a young woman, her eyes filled with a haunting expression.

"Who is that?" Sarah Jane whispered.

The caretaker, a wizened old man with a crooked smile, appeared beside her.

"That's Miss Emily," he said in a raspy voice. "She died here, over a hundred years ago."

A chill ran down Sarah Jane's spine.
