They formed a non-profit organization called The Memphis Story and began teaching free swimming lessons to children in underprivileged neighborhoods.

The Memphis Story quickly grew from a small group of volunteers to a city-wide movement. Today, The Memphis Story has taught over 100,000 children to swim. And the drowning rate in Memphis has been cut by more than half.

The Memphis Story is a shining example of what can be accomplished when a community comes together to solve a problem. This book is a blueprint for other communities that want to make a difference in the lives of their children.
