Zacchaeus the Tax Collector

Zacchaeus was a tax collector in the city of Jericho. Tax collectors were not popular in those days, as they were often seen as corrupt and greedy. Zacchaeus was no exception. He had become very wealthy by overtaxing the people of Jericho. As a result, he was despised by his community.

One day, Jesus came to Jericho. Zacchaeus had heard about Jesus, and he was curious to see him. But Zacchaeus was a short man, and he could not see over the crowd that had gathered around Jesus. So he climbed up into a sycamore tree to get a better view.

Jesus saw Zacchaeus in the tree, and he called out to him. "Zacchaeus," Jesus said, "come down, for I must stay at your house today." Zacchaeus was shocked and surprised. He quickly climbed down from the tree and welcomed Jesus into his home.

Jesus Forgives Zacchaeus

Jesus forgives Zacchaeus

When the other people in Jericho heard that Jesus was staying at Zacchaeus's house, they were angry. They did not think that Jesus should be associating with someone like Zacchaeus. But Jesus did not care what they thought. He knew that Zacchaeus was a sinner, but he also knew that Zacchaeus was ready to change.

Jesus ate dinner with Zacchaeus and his family. After dinner, Zacchaeus stood up and said to Jesus, "Lord, I will give half of my wealth to the poor, and if I have cheated anyone, I will repay them four times as much." Zacchaeus was truly sorry for his sins, and he wanted to make things right.

Jesus said to Zacchaeus, "Today salvation has come to this house." Zacchaeus had been transformed by Jesus' love and forgiveness. He was a new man, and he would never be the same again.
